What Is ENE?

EARLY NEUTRAL EVALUATION (ENE)

Is a voluntary, confidential, high quality, affordable, prompt, evaluative alternative dispute resolution (ADR) process focused on generating a durable settlement.

Social Early Neutral Evaluation [SENE]

In social ENE (SENE), custody and parenting time issue areas are addressed.

Financial Early Neutral Evaluation [FENE]

In financial ENE (FENE), financial and marital estate issues are addressed.

Who may participate?

- Divorcing parents
- Parents who are not married
- Parties filing for divorce or custody
- Parties who already have a decree but have a dispute.

Early Resolution

ENE can usually be scheduled within 7-14 days of the Initial Case Management Conference by contacting the Fifth Judicial District Early Neutral Evaluation Coordinator.

Team members block their calendar for easier accessibility.

Who Conducts ENE?

SENE: A team of two neutrals, one male and one female consisting of one attorney and one child related specialist, conduct the SENE. Neutrals must be experienced in divorce and custody matters and have completed specific ENE training.

FENE: One neutral attorney or accountant with five years' experience in divorce and custody matters. Neutrals must have completed specific ENE training and completed 2 ride a-longs.

COST:

SENE: The fee for SENE is $300 per parent per session. ENE fees are due at the beginning of each session. Additional travel fees for longer distances will be assessed.

FENE:

Fee for an FENE is $300 per hour per party. Fee may be reduced when a party provides proof of income as set forth below.

1. The fee for FENE is a sliding fee scale, based on each individual's gross annual income at determined by the CRC Coordinator
2. Sliding fee scale already recognizes poverty disparities.

Individual Gross Annual Inc.	Hourly Rate
$0 - $25,000	$25.00
$25,001 - $50,000	$50.00
$50,001 - $75,000	$75.00
$75,001 - $100,000	$100.00
$100,001 - $125,000	$150.00
$125,001 - 250,000	$250.00
Over $250,000	$300.00

How long does ENE take?

SENE

A typical SENE session takes 3-5 hours depending on the issues involved. On rare occasions an ENE may require more than one session.

FENE

A typical FENE session is shorter but multiple sessions are more likely.

What are the advantages of ENE?

1. Children: ENE benefits children by helping their parents quickly resolve their conflict. When parents are in conflict over custody or parenting time children suffer emotionally. The sooner contested court cases are completed; the sooner children can begin to regain a sense of stability.
2. Families Know Best: ENE helps parents to reach a settlement rather than having the court decide for them what is best for their family.
3. Time: ENE provides the parties a chance to settle their dispute quickly, allowing the family to begin the process of moving forward.
4. Cost: Family Court disputes can be lengthy and expensive. Parties who are able to reach an agreement early in the process may save legal fees and other costs such as custody evaluations.
